The Mayor's Column - Ashville Movie?

Have I got your attention. I recently had a meeting with Jim Gloyd. He is planning to write, direct, and star in a movie in the Ashville area. We like to use this forum to highlight new business, entrepreneurs, or activities that benefit our community. While different from past articles, this movie entrepreneur is promoting something that could have benefit to the community. The movie that is being made is called "The Wager". The Emmy award winning producer, Vince McVay, will be assisting in the production. The following is a description of the basic idea (logline/synopsis) of the film:

"Brucie thought he got a bum rap right from the very beginning, but most people would if they were abandoned and left on the steps of the police station as a mere infant, and their future consisted of seventeen foster homes.

With those odds Brucie didn't think he stood a chance, and maybe he didn't. However, after a trip to church things appeared to be looking up for young Brucie, that is until he is pulled from the grid, against his will, by the Cartel to do their bidding. By the time he breaks free from the Cartel's stronghold, he is equipped with a heinous past and gambling addiction... while somehow keeping his rugged good looks, charm, and wit intact. He tries to go on in spite of his infirmities, but all seems lost as he loses his job and is evicted to be once again cast to the streets. In what seems to be a last ditch effort... he takes everything he has left to the Casino in hopes for what would be the grand wager. Instead he loses everything and seems to be without hope... that is...until a man in white walks up and asks him if he would like to make a wager...a wager that will unlock a mysterious and spiritual journey that will forever alter a broken life."

I have know Mr. Gloyd for many years. He is looking for local involvement.

Police Beat—Auxiliary

The Ashville Village Police Department will have one more officer on the beat now that Village Councilman Brian Garvine has sworn in Officer Jack Thomas.

Thomas, who graduated from the police academy last year, took the oath in front of his son, fiancée, and extended family at Monday night's village council meeting.

Thomas, who hails from Lancaster, said he was eager to get started in his new career, serving his new community of Ashville.
